GERMAN ARMY CORPS LOST

In Forests West of Paris—Belgium Army Suddenly
Resumes Offensives.

AND ARE NEAR BRUSSELS

London, Sept. 11.—[S. A. M.]—
"The first official admission on the German side of success by the allies," says a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam, "appears in official communications issued in Berlin this afternoon.
Gen. Von Stern announces that the German army which had advanced across the Marne, and the east of Paris, was heavily attacked by the enemy between Paris and Meaux and Montmirail."

"The fighting lasted two days.
The German army had checked the enemy and had even itself advanced, but stronger hostile columns came to the assistance of the allies and the enemy was the battle compelling the German troops to retire. Fifty guns were captured by the allies and some thousands of men made prisoners."

"To the west of Verdun, fighting continues. The situation in Lorraine and the Vosges is unchanged. The battle in eastern Prussia has been resumed."

Off Northwest of Paris

A Paris dispatch to the Daily Chronicle says:
"In the battle of the Germans latest retrograde movement, many regiments of Germans have been cut off and remain in the wooded country within the triangle of Senlis, Compiègne and Dammartin. It is believed that they are in all to about 100,000 men. They have been cut off from the main body by the allies and their situation is precarious."

"The remarkable resistance of the fortress at Marbais, to the invading Germans is one of the most interesting features of the campaign. Because of its importance, it has undoubtedly seriously embarrassed the Germans in bringing up field guns against Paris and maintaining their communications."

"Laon and La Fere have been invested by the Germans and have perhaps fallen. It is not announced what has happened at Rheims, which may play an important part in the German retreat continues."

Invite you to attend their

Fall Opening

of Pattern, Ready-to-Wear and Picture Hats

Friday, September 18, 1914

They have secured the best line of hats the market affords and can please you no matter how fastidious you may be. Our millinery Misses Renshaw and Bernard are fully experienced and have purchased a full line of millinery goods of the latest designs. They will appreciate a call from the people of Earlington and vicinity.

You attention is called to our Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings and Dry Goods Department. When you spend your money you want full value for every cent you spend.

You insist on knowing the real value of articles you buy, and you are justly entitled to that knowledge.

You insist on having just what you want, and you are averse to accepting substitutes.

That is the attitude of the discerning women today, the women who makes the home what it is.

We know this and have purchased our stock of dry goods and ladies' furnishings with these requirements in view; purchased to please YOU to give you that high combination of value and appearance which means real economy in every purchase.

We give you exactly what you ask for—never a substitute. The more YOU know of the value of our goods the better it pleases us, for then you will know that this is a store where "economy" means something more than an empty word.

Don't forget the Opening Date Friday September 18. We want to see all our friends on this date and will appreciate a call.

Special Service at M. E.

Church South of Earlington. Special services will be held at the M. E. Church South of Earlington, Ky., next Sunday. The pastor did not preach on the subject of "Education," as was announced for last Sunday evening, but will preach on that subject next Sunday morning. The Trustees and Teachers are urged to be present, the public cordially invited to this service.

Rev. J. B. Adams, Presiding Elder, of the Princeton District, of the Louisville Conference, and who has been Presiding Elder for the last four years will preach his last sermon for this church next Sunday evening, at least for this term. Rev. Adams has many friends in this city who doubtless will take advantage of this opportunity to hear him.

Bigger and Better Than Ever Before

While a number of fairs have been calling off their tails and cutting down premiums on account of drought and other causes, the Pennyroyal Fair to be held at Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 20th to Oct. 3rd, has gone right ahead with increased purses and increased enthusiasm, confident of the support of the surrounding territory, and assured that the attractive premium list will bring together such a class of rings and speed horses as has never before been seen in Western Kentucky.

Something like a hundred firms have donated special prizes running from $5 to $15. This shows how completely the people of that section are interested in the Pennyroyal Fair.

They have a $20,000 plant and grounds consisting of forty acres of bluegrass, with a superb track magnificently equipped.

Write to B. G. Nelson, Sec'y., for a catalogue and include this fair in your circuit.

Profitable Prices For Farm Products

The greatest encouragement that can be given agriculture is profitable prices for farm products. Crop destroying insects have been a stubborn enemy, and Jupiter Pluvius has played many pranks on the farmer, but there is no pestilence like low prices: they will sap the life-blood of an industry.

It is one of the most pitiful sights in twentieth century civilization to see a farmer after he has raised a crop sit helplessly by and watch the bulls and bears of Europe and America trample over it, and yet if the farmer he can successfully fence out these animals that devastate his products after the harvest.

The Kentucky farmer needs co-operation as badly as diversification.

Josh Billings said, "It isn't no use to argue agin a success."

CROP OUTLOOK MUCH BETTER

Rains of Past Month Have Greatly Benefited All Farm Products—Change Noted is Wonderful.

AVERAGE YIELDS ARE PROMISED PLANTERS

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 10.—In his crop report for the month of September, Commissioner of Agriculture Newhall says that a month of seasonable weather has made a vast change in the crop outlook for this year. The condition of the tobacco and corn crops have improved to such an extent that average crops will be realized.

The report follows:
"It is difficult to believe that such a change in conditions could be made within thirty days. Farmers and livestock men of the State are rejoicing over improved conditions."

Conditions Improved

The report of September 1 shows the condition of corn eighty-three per cent as compared with sixty-five per cent August 1. Burley tobacco eight per cent as compared with fifty-six per cent. Dark tobacco seventy-two per cent as compared with sixty-two per cent. Cow peas and soy beans show a condition of eighty-one per cent and eighty-two per cent, respectively. Bluegrass shows a condition of eighty-two per cent as compared with sixty-four per cent; alfalfa eighty-seven per cent as compared with sixty-five per cent; clover, seventy-one per cent as compared with fifty-five per cent. Even fruit has been greatly improved by the rains. Livestock is given as being in better condition than a month ago. Garden conditions have increased from a condition of fifty-one per cent to sixty-four per cent.

"In this connection it seems advisable to call the attention of the farmers of the State to the fact that the every indication points to a high price for foodstuffs for next year.
The United States Government authorities, the railroads and commercial bodies of the country are encouraging the sowing of a large acreage for winter wheat. The European war will undoubtedly cause grain and livestock produced in America to bring good prices during the next few months, if not for several years. We, therefore, urge all farmers to increase their wheat acreage, and to use bone meal or acid phosphate on their wheat lands."

Peace and Prosperity Promised.
"The State has not been so free of hog cholera for several years. Farmers will do well to keep their brood sows and to increase their number of sheep. Pork and mutton prices will unquestionably be high. If the war continues any length of time, wool will be much higher next year than this. The agents for European government are buying horses and mules at the present time.
Prices have not materially advanced but with the war lasting for a few months, it is reasonable to expect cavalry and artillery horses, as well as mules, to very materially advance price."

"The tobacco grower will rejoice over the determination of the Federal Reserve Board to accept notes secured by warehouse receipts on tobacco to the extent of seventy-five per cent of the value of the crop from bank members of the Federal Reserve Association."

"Taken as a whole, the Kentucky farmer has every reason for looking to the future with a hopeful feeling.
Every indication is that peace and prosperity is in prospect for him."

Acute Indigestion

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M.
J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

SAN FRANCISCO

WHO WILL BE THE LUCKY TEACHER TO WIN THIS WONDERFUL VACATION NEXT YEAR?

The free trip offered will be educational and instructive as well as entertaining. The routes traversed to the Expositions and return will be through the "Fairland of the West"—a magnificent trip by rail across the continent, through scenic New Mexico and Arizona where are found Indian pueblos, petrified forests, snow-capped mountain peaks and titanic chasms. The Grand Canyon of Arizona is the world's most sublime scenic wonder, miles wide, a mile deep and painted in all the colors of the rainbow; the old missions in California, with their sandaled priests and Spanish customs; the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego; Los Angeles with its many attractive sights and Orange Groves; then on to San Joaquin Valley, to San Francisco and the Exposition.

On the way back via Nevada, the Great Salt Lake and the Land of Mormons, Pike's Peak, and the mountains of picturesque Colorado with their awe-inspiring grandeur. The trip of a lifetime. From an educational standpoint, the trip is truly a wonderful one.

RULES OF CONTEST

Any school teacher in Hopkins county can be nominated. Each issue will contain nomination blanks. Fill in the name of your favorite and mail or leave the nomination blank at our office. Every subscription to the Special Combination, Clabbing offer will entitle the subscriber to Ten Mileage Stamps to give to his favorite teacher. Mileage will be given for combination orders only; no mileage will be allowed for a separate subscription for any one of the five publications in the combination. Subscription blanks will be found in each issue of the Clabber.

There are no restrictions as to territory in securing combination orders and mileage. The date of the close of the contest will be announced later. Ample time will be given, as the Exposition does not open until February, 1915.

The teacher having the greatest number of stamps in her mileage book will be declared the winner. For an additional information address, Free Trip Exposition Bureau, co, Earling, Ky.

Newspaperdom is the chief foe of any school of medicine, Christian Science or the makers of proprietary medicines, but it does not feel that newspaper publishers should have all the facts about every move made by any group that tries to form a "closed corporation" of its own, to secure official sanction of its medication to the public in a National way. We feel sure that if the American Medical Association, for instance, ever got a complete grip on Congress it could so influence legislation as to wipe homeopathy, osteopathy, the Christian Scientist and the proprietary medicine manufacturers completely off the map. And as this Association is on record as opposed to any remedy that is advertised in the newspapers, we are inclined to believe that its bitter fight against proprietary medicines is not so much in the interest of public health as it is for its own selfish advantage.

Newspaperdom "doesn't believe any doctor of any school, or any board of health, which might be packed, should have such sweeping power to destroy a business of this kind, especially when there is such a business of this kind; especially when there is such a diversity of opinion as to the curative property of all drugs and the chemical recreation of drugs in the system.

There was a time when the family physician wrote out his prescriptions and sent the patient with them to the neighboring druggist. But that practice has all but passed away," many doctors nowadays buy their drugs and pills in bulk and dispense them themselves. Under the old system it was possible to trace mistakes. Then, the druggist was responsible. Now, a person may be given improper medicine, may die, and the same doctor pass on the cause of death. It would hardly seem logical that he would judge himself guilty, even if he actually was. Therefore we urge a careful perusal of the medical news that goes into your paper, and especially urge a thorough investigation of the "pressure" being brought upon you to drop proprietary medicine advertising from your columns. As Post said, "There's a reason."

The Men Behind The Plow

The eleventh annual meeting of the National Farmers' Union was in session for three days at Fort Worth last week. The delegates attending the meeting came from more than two-thirds of the States in the Union and every branch of agricultural endeavor was represented. The wheat farmer from the northwest, the corn farmer from the middle west, the tobacco farmers from the Virginias and the cotton farmer from the sunny south—all held "counsel together and were united in their effort to solve the grave problem which now confronts the American farmer. Coming as they did, direct from the soil, with their hands brown from exposure, and their minds attuned to the needs of the hour, there was no chance for dissension among their ranks and there was a complete harmony and unity of thought and action, such as befit the class which feeds and clothes the world.
